Introduction:

The session on Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) was successfully organized as part of the Annual Training Camp (ATC) of the National Cadet Corps (NCC) held at Vivekananda Global University, Jaipur on 26th June 2025. The session took place at the university's Auditorium and was graced by the presence of Dr. S.V.H. Nagendra, Coordinator, IQAC, Vivekananda Global University, who served as the esteemed resource person for the event. The session was attended by ten enthusiastic school students who participated actively and gained valuable knowledge about the concept and importance of Intellectual Property Rights in the modern world.

Key Highlights:

Dr. Nagendra commenced the session by introducing the fundamental principles of Intellectual Property Rights, emphasizing their importance in safeguarding creativity, innovation, and research outcomes. He elaborated on the various forms of IPR, including patents, trademarks, copyrights, and industrial designs, explaining how each category plays a crucial role in the protection of original work. He further highlighted how intellectual property serves as a driving force behind innovation and contributes to the growth of national and global economies.

The resource person also discussed the procedures involved in patent filing, the criteria for patentability, and the role of educational institutions in nurturing an IPR culture among students and researchers. Through real-world examples and case studies, Dr. Nagendra explained the importance of protecting creative ideas and innovations to avoid infringement and misuse. The interactive nature of the session encouraged students to engage in discussions and ask questions related to their own innovative ideas, thereby creating an atmosphere of curiosity and inspiration.

Outcome of the Session:

The session had a profound impact on the attending students, making them aware of the legal, ethical, and procedural aspects of Intellectual Property Rights.

The participants expressed their appreciation for the opportunity to learn about IPR from an expert and acknowledged the session as highly informative and thought-provoking.

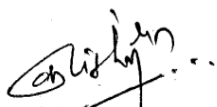

Many students shared the feedback that they understood the relevance of IPR in academics and how it can protect their creative works in the future.

The knowledge gained from this session is expected to motivate them to explore innovation with a responsible and aware mindset.

Conclusion:

The collaborative efforts of the university administration, faculty, and the NCC team ensured the smooth and effective execution of the program. The event marked another successful step towards sensitizing students about the importance of Intellectual Property Rights and inspiring them to value innovation and creativity in their future pursuits.

Overall, the IPR session during the NCC Annual Training Camp proved to be a highly impactful and meaningful initiative that aligned with the university's vision of fostering knowledge, innovation, and social responsibility among the youth.
